I. "GLAVNYY TURKMENSKIY KANAL" (MAIN TURKMEN CANAL) BY P. BELYAVSKIY.

1. The book is designated for Soviet youth. It describes the original conditions in the KARA-KUM Desert and later turns to future changes facilitated by the projected constr of the Main Turkmen Canal. The author describes the various stages of preparatory work on the constr site, names the industrial installations participating in the constr by supply of constr materials and eqp. After a short description of the geographical and geological conditions of the constr site, and of the work status achieved in 1951, the book set forth a prospective outlook on the future operation of the main canal, the three large hydropower plants and the irrigation and derivation system.
